GOLEMAN LEARNING RESOURCE CENTER RENOVATION

Conceptual Rendering

The renovation of the Goleman Learning Resource Center will create a technologically advanced information center, with aesthetics and design that will create an atmosphere conducive to study and ease of modern information retrieval in a safe environment for the entire campus community. Upon its completion, the renovation will create a state-of-the-art library in two-story setting of over 50,000 square feet with contemporary amenities. These include individual and group study areas and universal internet access. Library functions such as reference and cataloging will also be redesigned and modernized in the process. Construction is expected to start in Summer 2008 and be completed in Fall 2009.
